WASHINGTON (AP)—The cattlemen's "caravan" hit the trail for home today, its members voicing chagrin at lack of success in the capital but vowing to take their fight for livestock price supports to the political grass roots. At their windup session Tuesday they greeted enthusiastically a suggestion that each man carry the campaign for a government floor livestock price to his own congressman and senators.

Pressure On Congress

The cattlemen appeared to have written off completely any idea of getting direct price supports from Secretary of Agriculture Benson. "Benson isn't going to help us," said James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union, which organized the caravan.

Patton said in an interview that a new caravan would march on Washington "that will make this one look like a small affair" if Congress doesn't vote high-level price supports for livestock.

Storage Big Problem

The 350 cattlemen from 30 states outlined their case calmly to Benson and his top aides in their two-day talks. Some of them voiced disappointment that they did not get to see President Eisenhower after asking to see him.

The cattlemen asked him to support livestock prices with loans as he now does for a number of field crops and dairy products.

Benson noted that crops can be stored and used later, but he said the government might be stuck with huge quantities of perishable

Defense Chief Will Be Target For Democrats

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson will be in the main target area when the Democrats start blasting the Eisenhower administration in 1954, a congressional election year.

No doubt Sen. Symington of Missouri will be in one of the Democrats' forward positions when the full assault begins. Months ago this former secretary of the Air Force started firing verbal missiles at the administration in general and Wilson in particular.

Tax Cut Needed

Symington's main peeve against Wilson has been the five billion dollar cut in the Air Force which Wilson piloted through Congress this year.

Since 1954 is an election year, with control of Congress at stake, the Eisenhower administration would find it handy to have a magic formula for a big tax cut for everyone, individuals and corporations; at the same time expenses reduced to balance the budget; and still enough money spent on defense to keep the country amply protected.

Defense costs are the biggest part of the budget. The whole administration will be looking to Wilson to cut defense costs where he can, with safety.

Safety First

Symington and other Democrats can give Wilson a hard time — when he appears before Congress to explain how much money he needs for defense — with questions like these:

Where does safety stop and danger begin when it is known the Russians are working on the hydrogen bomb? Are Wilson's proposed cuts in defense spending an attempt to economize at the risk of safety?

This week Symington said: "It becomes steadily more apparent that some of the so-called big businessmen brought into Washington to 'straighten things out' have no basic knowledge of, or respect for, the system of checks and balances between the executive and legislative branches of our government."

Symington said the administration went back on a pledge by Wilson that no combat planes would be eliminated by a cut in Air Force appropriations, and added:

"What right have those appointed — not elected — government servants to hoodwink the Congress and the people in this manner?"

Fireman Accused Of Setting Fires

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP)—Edward Wing, 31-year-old former volunteer fireman for the District Heights Fire Department, has been held in $2,000 bond on charges of setting two fires.

Detective Sgt. Ralph E. Bond of Prince George's County said Wink started the fires Sept. 30, then answered the alarms with the Fire Department.

Farm Discontent Main Republican Party Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), saying Republicans cannot afford politically to discount farm discontent, declared today the GOP faces "a whale of a big problem" in drafting a new agriculture program.

And Sen. Kefauver (D - Tenn.) said in a separate interview that unless the Republicans come up soon with plans "to meet the crisis in agriculture" President Eisenhower ought to call a special session of Congress.

President Quizzed

The President scheduled today a news conference at which he faced questioning about farm policy matters.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he and other GOP congressional chiefs expect to sit in with Eisenhower and Cabinet members on the formation of the administration's program to be laid before Congress in January.

The California senator wouldn't commit himself in advance on expected demands in Congress for continuance of fixed, high-level price supports for major field crops.

But he said discontent over farm price declines evidently was reflected in the election of a Democrat in Wisconsin's traditionally Republican 9th Congressional District two weeks ago.

Warning In Election

"I don't think Republicans can ignore the significance of that election," he said. "It was a warning signal that should not be discounted."

He said Republicans face a "tough contest" in a Nov. 10 special election in California's 24th Congressional District. However, most of that district lies in urban Los Angeles and Pasadena.

In this district, formerly represented by Republican Rep. Paul Poulson, now Los Angeles mayor, Democratic registrations top Republican by 10,000. Two Democrats and two Republicans are runners; the high man will be the winner.

One AFL Official Freed Of Graft

DETROIT (AP)—One of six AFL Teamsters Union officials is free today of charges of extortion and conspiracy.

Accusations against Anthony J. Liuzzo, business agent of Detroit Local 247, were dropped on motion of Assistant Prosecutor Joseph A. Rashid as a week-long examination of the six ended in Records criminal Court Tuesday.

Defense motions to strike certain testimony and dismiss charges against other defendants will be heard at 2 p. m. Thursday by Judge Martha Griffiths.

These still are to learn whether they must face trial: Louis Linteau, business agent of Pontiac, Mich. Local 614; Mike E. Nicoletti, president of Detroit Local 247; Samuel Marroso, business agent of 247; Daniel J. Keating, president of 614; and Frank Fitzsimmons, vice-president of Detroit Local 299.

Contractors have testified about a long list of what they said were solicited gifts and payoffs. Eighteen payments involving $11,710 were placed in the record yesterday.

In an interview aboard the liner United States with about 50 newsmen, the king said he would address the National Press Club in Washington Nov. 6, hoped to visit some of the nation's colleges, an automobile plant and a model farm near Chicago.

A visit to the 350-acre dairy and hog farm of Mr. and Mrs. J. George Smith in Oswego, Ill., is on their schedule.

Safe Is Eccentric

DALLAS (AP)—Burglars smashed a hole in the roof of a grocery store, dropped inside, and tackled a large and heavy safe.

They knocked off the knob. They removed the handle. Finally they turned the giant safe on its back and chiseled for hours on the bottom. They got nowhere.

Police answering the owner's call Tuesday set the big safe upright and the door swung open by itself.

Peace Talks Possible If Russia Shows Good Faith, Says President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today it would be perfectly hopeless for him to take part in a meeting with Soviet Premier Malenkov unless he knows Russia has an honest purpose for such a meeting.

He added that Russia could show such honesty in any of a hundred ways.

The President's news conference statement was in response to questions about a new Russian hint that Premier Malenkov may be ready for peace talks with the Western chiefs of state.

Israel Aid Resumed

The President also repeated that what he has said before—that regardless of handicaps or inconvenience he would do anything in the world he thought would advance the cause of peace.

He qualified that again by saying there must be an indication it would produce results in good faith.

The President also told reporters: "I. U. S. economic aid to Israel will be resumed since Israel has agreed to suspend work on a hydroelectric power program which Arab neighbors charged would divert Jordan River water to their injury."

Israel announced Tuesday it would hold up the project while the United Nations Security Council debates the issues.

Eisenhower did not say just what the youngsters, three boys and a girl, were reported doing "pretty well" in an incubator while nurses hovered with eye-droppers to feed them their first meals.

The quads were born to Mrs. June E. Trollman, a 33-year-old divorcee and former state employee, who has four other children. The mother was reported doing well.

A local dairy company was first to the front with a promise of a year's supply of milk and the proprietor, Dewey McDonald, said with a grin that it wouldn't all be delivered at once.

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. S. special envoy Arthur Dean will offer the Communists a new formula Thursday for setting up a Korean peace conference. Today he said "there is a possibility we are going to work something out."

Dean's optimistic prediction followed the third session of preliminary talks to plan a Korean political conference.

The Communist delegate insisted in a 2,500-word statement that Russia be seated at the peace conference as a neutral.

Dean said he replied that Russia logically should attend the conference — and sit with Red China and North Korea — since Communist armies in Korea "were equipped with planes, tanks, guns and munitions sent from the Soviet Union."

"The Soviet Union has openly supported your side by word and deed," Dean declared. "The U. S. S. R. has thus played a direct role in the Korean hostilities."

U. F. Fair Manager Praised; Proposed For Civil Service

LANSING (AP)—The State Civil Service Commission will consider making the secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula State Fair a civil service employee.

The question is scheduled for attention at the commission's meeting Thursday.

The move was asked by Ben D. Miller, chairman of the fair's board of managers. The present holder of the $6,500 position is Ray LaPorte who has been working as a non-civil service employee since July 1, 1952.

Miller said that the fair board backed the move. He added that LaPorte "has affected many economies and at the same time put on an exposition second to none in the annals of fair history in the Upper Peninsula."

Torture Tricks Of Reds Bared

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—Torture methods of the Chinese Communists could have wrung a false confession out of any POW, says Maj. Roy H. Bley, 39, a Marine flier who was shot down in North Korea.

Maj. Bley told newsmen he signed a false deposition of participating in germ warfare because he could not have stood the torture longer. He was shot down July 8, 1952 and is one of 10 who signed similar confessions. The United States has charged in the United Nations that the Communists used merciless torture to obtain the false germ warfare confessions.

Maj. Bley said he was threatened with castration and put in solitary confinement in a mud hut crawling with rats, lice and other vermin. The hut was so small he could not stand up. He was forced to stand awake 48 hours at a time while being questioned.

"I finally got to where I couldn't reason out anything logically," he told newsmen at El Toro Marine Air Station, where he is stationed. He said he knew that if he didn't give a statement he would be killed.

Today he weighs 150, 35 pounds below his normal weight. He was among the last group of prisoners released.

Lansing Welcomes Second Quadruplets

LANSING (AP)—For the second time in a quarter-century, this capitol city opened its heart today in welcome to a set of tiny quadruplet babies—"A," "B," "C," and "D" Trollman.

The youngsters, three boys and a girl, were reported doing "pretty well" in an incubator while nurses hovered with eye-droppers to feed them their first meals.

The quads were born to Mrs. June E. Trollman, a 33-year-old divorcee and former state employee, who has four other children. The mother was reported doing well.

Search Pushed For Babysitter Who Vanished

By CHRIS EDMONDS

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—Police Chief George Long revealed today that a pair of men's trousers stained with "what looked like blood" had been found and seemed to have a definite link with the disappearance and apparent murder of Evelyn Hartley.

The 15-year-old girl vanished Saturday night under circumstances indicating she had been abducted from the home where she was baby-sitting.

Hunt Follows Railroad

Although Long would not say that the trousers were found near the spot where stained lingerie was found Tuesday he did tell a press conference that searching efforts are being intensified in that area.

A searching party of 30 men on foot, an Air Force helicopter and a Burlington railroad motor scooter concentrated on the southeastern outskirts of the city. This is an area which had been searched twice before. The motor scooter will travel the right of way 30 miles south to De Soto and the ground crews will move out from La Crosse.

A reporter asked Dist. Atty. John Bosshard whether the searchers were looking for a body. He answered, "We are looking for anything that might help in solving this case."

Chief Long was asked by a newsmen whether the police department believes the girl is dead. "I'm not answering that," said the chief.

Bosshard told reporters, "All the

Living Costs Up To New Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living, pushed upward mainly by higher rents, clothing costs and medical expenses, set another new record last month, the government reported today.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics announced that its consumer price index reached 115.2 in mid-September, a rise of .2 of 1 per cent over the record August level.

This was the seventh straight monthly increase.

The index is a composite average of retail prices paid by the American household for basic goods and service as compared with 1947-1949.

The bureau said a decline in retail food prices between August and September was not enough to offset higher prices for all other types of consumer goods and services.

Fleet Of Warships With Atomic Power Foreseen For Future

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Initial tests of an atomic engine for submarines exceeded expectations, Adm. Robert B. Carney told a military organization Tuesday night, and predicted an entire fleet of future warships powered by nuclear energy.

The chief of naval operations, speaking to the Military Order of the World Wars, warned the nation's defense is being weakened by failure to maintain a modern Navy and added that, "for the most part, our ships are designed to meet the conditions of World War II."

Harnischfeger Wins On Appeal Of NLRB Case

The United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit Chicago, this week reversed the decision of the National Labor Relations Board in the case of Harnischfeger Corporation involving the discharge of three of the company's employees in Escanaba, Sept. 14, 1951.

The three discharged employees are Charles Wheatley, Austin Ohlen and John R. Connelly.

The National Labor Relations Board had previously ruled that the three men who were discharged by the company allegedly for inciting an illegal walkout were discharged illegally. The decision of the NLRB ruled that the company must reinstate the men and pay back wages.

Decision Appealed

The Harnischfeger Corporation then appealed the decision to the Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago which on Oct. 26, 1953 reversed the NLRB decision and ruled that the order of the National Labor Relations Board be set aside and that the Board's request for enforcement be denied.

The trial examiner of the NLRB, Sidney Lindner, issued his ruling on Nov. 12, 1952. In his ruling Lindner contended that the company's refusal to reinstate the three men "interfered with, restrained and coerced the employees in the exercise of rights guaranteed by Section 7" of the National Labor Relations Act.

On Feb. 27, 1953 the National Labor Relations Board in Washington sustained the findings of the trial examiner. It was this decision that the Harnischfeger Corporation appealed to the United States Court of Appeals.

The three judges who heard the case in Circuit Court of Appeals were Judges Philip J. Finnegan, Walter C. Lindley and H. Nathan Swain.

Not "Concerted Activity"

The decision upsetting the order of the NLRB was written by Judge Finnegan.

In his decision, Judge Finnegan analyzed whether or not the participation of the three discharged men constituted "protective concerted activity" within the meaning of Section 7 of the National Labor Relations Act. He concluded that the walkout was contrary to the principles of collective bargaining inasmuch as the employees designated to union officers the power to bargain collectively on their behalf with the company and that the walkout was made against the wishes of the union officers.

The final conclusion follows:

"The record in the instant case is destitute of any evidence that the company discouraged membership in the union in any way or that it has interfered with the right of employees to organize or to join the CIO workers' union. In our opinion the work stoppage of Sept. 13, 1951 was not under the facts and circumstances a concerted activity within the protection of Section 8 of the Act.

"The order of the Board is set aside and the Board's request for enforcement is denied."

Another case involving Harnischfeger and the discharged employees is pending before the Michigan Supreme Court. This case pertains to the eligibility of the discharged men to receive unemployment compensation benefits. The case was heard in Delta County Circuit Court Dec. 19, 1952 and on April 20, 1953 Judge Glenn Jackson ruled that the men were entitled to unemployment benefits. The company appealed to the Supreme Court and the appeal is pending.

Escanaba Considers Power Contract With Alger-Delta Co-op

A proposed 10-year contract with the Alger-Delta Cooperative Electric Association to supply the city of Escanaba with electric power is being considered by the Escanaba City Council.

The proposed contract is based on the assumption that the Rural Electrification Administration will loan the Alger-Delta Cooperative $6,500,000 for the construction of a generating plant.

Both Escanaba and the Cooperative own electric distribution systems but do not have electric generating plants. They purchase power from Upper Michigan Power & Light Company, subsidiary of Mead Corporation, which does not want to continue as a supplier.

Will Sell 'Surplus'

Period of the proposed contract is for 10 years beginning Jan. 1, 1956, which assumes the Cooperatives' power plant would be completed and in operation by that date.

In informal meeting yesterday Escanaba City Council and city officials suggested certain revisions of the proposed contract, including an "escape clause" for the city if Cooperative power is not available to Escanaba by Jan. 1, 1957.

Escanaba will purchase the Cooperatives' "excess capacity" or surplus power but assures the city all the power it requires in the operation of its distribution system.

The Cooperative proposes to build its generating plant approximately two miles north of the Escanaba city limits. The city is to erect transmission lines for the delivery of power.

Rates Higher

The proposed contract with the Cooperative provides for wholesale power rates above those now being paid by the city to Upper Michigan Power & Light Company under the present wholesale power contract.

The present contract, which will expire Aug. 1, 1959, is very favorable to the city, however, and the power company is requesting an upward revision of the rate.

Proposed contract rates with the Cooperative, with the present power contract rates shown in brackets for comparison at present day conditions, are as follows:

Demand charge: $1 (85c) per kw per month applied to the maximum demand established each month.

Energy charge: First 2,500,000 kwhr. per month at 0.85c (0.701c) per kwhr. Over 2,500,000 kwhr. per month at 0.70c (0.650c) per kwhr.

The proposed contract with the Cooperative includes a fuel adjustment clause which would permit increasing the rate to the city based on higher fuel costs to Cooperative.

Legal Point Raised

There is no fuel adjustment section in the present contract with Upper Michigan Power & Light Company. The Power & Light Company claims it is losing upwards of $160,000 a year on the contract with the city and seeks to have the rates revised upward.

In yesterday's meeting of the Council and Cooperative representatives on the proposed contract Councilman Guy Knutson asked if there is a legal point involved and whether the city might be left without power if the Cooperative or REA were enjoined from continuing with the power project.

Wynand Nieuwenkamp, Cooperative manager, and C. M. Stanley, consulting engineer for the Cooperative, felt there was little possibility of such an injunction "although this is a free country and anybody can go to court."

Welfare Costs Go Down Again

Welfare expenditures in Delta County in August 1953 dropped $4,020.02 from expenditures for the same month in 1952, according to figures released today by A. M. Gilbert, welfare director.

The decline followed a pattern which has been evident all year. Gilbert has commented in the past that such variations are of little significance.

Expenditures from federal, state and county funds this August totaled $72,873.32. Expenditures for August 1952 were $76,893.34.

An accompanying table, released by Gilbert, gives a breakdown for August 1953.

Old age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to blind and aid to disabled are financed by state and federal funds.

Direct relief is financed by state and county funds.

County welfare and administrative are financed wholly by county funds.

Medical supplement cases are old age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to blind, and aid to disabled who are given medical care for acute illness. No provision is made in federal and state grants for this item, Gilbert said.

The table follows:

Category	Cases	Amount
Old Age Assistance	776	$37,303.00
Aid to Dependent
Children	190	18,005.00
Aid to Blind	9	517.50
Aid to Disabled	11	640.00

High Power On WBAY-TV Near At Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Oct. 27 — Station WBAY-TV here which commenced telecasting March 17 on VHF Channel 2 at a power of 6,000 watts, will step up its transmission strength to 100,000 watts within the next few days to become one of Wisconsin's two most powerful television stations.

Workmen Tuesday put the finishing touches on a tower 750 feet high — equivalent to the height of a 75-story office building — and full power telecasting will begin as soon as the transmission line is connected to the tower and tests are completed.

Haydn R. Evans, general manager of Radio Station WBAY and WBAY-TV — both owned by the Norbertine Fathers of West De Pere, the Catholic order which also owns Radio Station WBBY in Appleton — said the increased wattage will increase WBAY-TV's current "radius of good reception" of 55 to 60 miles to a calculated radius of 90 to 100 miles from its transmitter on Scray's Hill southeast of here.

Conservatively, the larger receiving area is bounded to the south by Milwaukee (112 miles from here), to the west by Wisconsin Rapids, to the north by Kingsford, Mich., and eastwards across Lake Michigan to Manistee, Mich.

On the air daily from 2:30 p.m. until midnight, WBAY-TV transmits programs furnished by ABC, CBS and DuMont television networks as well as local telecasts.

Wisconsin's other 100,000 watt television station is WTMJ-TV, Milwaukee.

Tension In Palestine Eased; Israel Holds Up Jordan River Project

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Straining tensions over the hot Palestine dispute eased a notch today after Israel suddenly offered to hold up the Jordan River hydroelectric project while the U.N. Security Council debates the issue. The move was quick commendation from both the Arabs and the United States.

The council postponed until Thursday its Palestine hearings to give the General Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee a chance to resume debate on American charges that the Russians ran a torture center to extort germ warfare "confessions" from captured American airmen.

Israel's chief U. N. delegate, Abba Eban, made the surprise offer Tuesday to suspend work on diverting the waters of the Jordan as the council debated Syria's complaint that the project deprived the Arabs of water for irrigation and breached the Arab-Jewish armistice.

Lebanon's Dr. Charles Mikil, sole Arab League delegate on the council, voiced gratitude for Israel's "conciliatory gesture."

$20,000 Quota Again In County Community Chest's 1953 Campaign

The quota for the 1953 Delta County Community Chest campaign, which will get underway with a bang special "Community Chest Day" next Tuesday, will again be $20,000, it was announced by Executive Chairman William E. Anderson at an organization meeting at the Salvation Army office last night.

"After due consideration of all budgets of the six participating agencies, it has been determined that the goal will remain the same as it has been for the past two years," Anderson said.

"Escanaba residents must raise $12,500, Gladstone $4,500 and residents of the 14 townships in Delta County will have a quota of $3,000 to make the total of $20,000. This money will be used to pay for the welfare work of six agencies throughout 1954."

Agencies in the Chest are the Salvation Army, Campfire Girls, Boy Scouts, Michigan Children's Aid, Cod Liver Oil Fund and the Girl Scouts.

James T. Jones, of the Michigan Children's Aid Society; Mrs. Christine L. Riegel, of the Cod Liver Oil Fund, and Andrew Houston, of the Boy Scouts, appeared on a special Community Chest broadcast over Radio Station WESK this week, it was reported.

As an additional means of publicizing the need for the Community Chest, representatives of the Campfire Girls, Girl Scouts and Salvation Army will be interviewed over WESK at 9 o'clock next Tuesday morning. This half hour program will inaugurate "Community Chest Day."

Meanwhile, the county organization and armies of solicitors in Gladstone and Escanaba are being formed in preparation for the start of the drive next Tuesday and the giant white feather being erected at the intersection of 11th and Ludington Streets by an Escanaba city crew.

Chairman Anderson announced that most of the supplies have been received, including the solicitors' kits, window stickers, label buttons, milk bottle Community Chest camps and other material. Community Chest booths will again be in operation in the three banks in Escanaba.

Detailed plans for "Community Chest Day" will be announced later.

Lund Negotiates Oil Contract In South America

Wendell Lund, a former Escanaba man who is now a Washington, D. C., attorney, and business associates recently won from the South American country of Bolivia important oil concessions in which the spectacular Texas millionaire Glenn McCarthy also has become involved, according to a recent story in the Washington Daily News.

The News said it was partly because of the Bolivian contract that the Securities and Exchange Commission recently made effective the registration of 10 million shares which McCarthy wants to sell in Glenn McCarthy, Inc., a speculative enterprise. Par value of the shares is 25 cents.

Lund, a registered lobbyist in Washington for the Detroit Edison Co., said he and James Gerity Jr. of Adrian, Mich., first became interested in the possibility of a nickel concession in Bolivia. Gerity heads a nickel-plating company in Michigan.

Though the nickel deal didn't pan out, the oil concession developed in its place. Lund and Gerity sent a Maryland petroleum geologist to Bolivia twice about a year and a half ago, Lund said.

Asked how McCarthy became involved, Lund replied, "We brought this deal to him."

"Bolivia liked the idea of bringing in McCarthy, who was known to them as a dynamic person," Lund added.

Lund said Gerity knew McCarthy prior to the time McCarthy was invited into the deal.

The former Escanaban, Gerity, and the petroleum geologist have a profits-division arrangement with McCarthy, Lund said. After McCarthy gets his money out of the deal, if there are any profits left, Lund, Gerity and the geologist will get six per cent, and McCarthy will keep the rest.

McCarthy, a Texas oilman, built Houston's famous Shamrock Hotel. Lund, born in Wisconsin in 1905, attended Escanaba Public Schools and graduated from high school in 1922 with first honors in his class.

Substitute Near For Natural Gas

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An acceptable substitute for natural gas may be available for home heating and industry by the end of next year or early in 1955.

Those dates were set by E. S. Pettyjohn, vice president and director of the Institute of Gas Technology, Chicago, at a meeting of members and trustees of the Institute Tuesday night.

The institute is an affiliate of the American Gas Association, now in convention here.

Pettyjohn said a new process of hydrogasification last year allowed researchers to make headway in a search for a natural gas substitute.

"For the first time," he said, "a conversion to gas has been accomplished without a solid or liquid residue resulting in the operation."

The Institute has been working since 1947 to find a substitute which might help meet increased demands for natural gas for home heating and industrial purposes. The work has been conducted at the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago.

Any Solution Of City's Electric Problem Has Undesirable Factors

ESCANABA is proceeding slowly and cautiously towards a solution of the city's electric power problem, a course of action that befits the problem.

A speedy solution to the problem is not essential because the city's present contract for electricity with the power company does not expire until 1959. Despite that the problem is one of some immediate concern for several reasons.

First of all, the present power source is not adequate to provide for substantial industrial expansion. In times of low water, the present supply may not even be ample for immediate needs, such as during the Christmas holidays.

The present contract, written in 1938 before inflation, does not permit the power company to earn a profit but on the contrary requires the power company to sustain a heavy loss on the city's business. This loss has been variously reported at $80,000 to $160,000 per year. Undoubtedly the sorry experience with this contract is one reason why the Mead Corporation, parent company of the power subsidiary, has informed the City of Escanaba that the power company will not enter into a new contract to supply electric power beyond 1959.

The Mead Corporation reports that it desires to expand its industrial facilities at the Escanaba Paper Company but cannot do so because of the harassing effect of its power contract with the City of Escanaba. The intimation is that if Escanaba could find a new source of electric power, Mead Corporation would be in a position to expand its industry here, thereby creating more jobs for more people.

The city's study of the power problem shows three possible solutions, each of which has some adverse factors.

The city could enter into a contract with the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative under which the co-op would expand its generating facilities and sell "surplus" power to Escanaba for a period of 10 years. Aside from the question of legality, a pertinent one in this case, there is the question of long-term economic desirability. A vital factor in this potential solution, too, is the question of whether the Rural Electrification Administration will loan the Alger-Delta Co-op sufficient funds to construct an electric plant of the size needed to meet the needs of rural customers as well as the City of Escanaba.

A possible second solution is for the city to build its own electric generating plant. This would entail a cost estimated at $4,500,000, a capital outlay which may require a substantial increase in rates to liquidate the indebtedness as well as to maintain the plant. Also, there is an additional problem of standby electric power source in the event of a mechanical failure of the city's generating plant.

The other alternative is for the city to sell its electric distribution system to a private power company and get out of the electric business. Private power companies have indicated that they will not sell electricity at wholesale to the City of Escanaba but will be happy to take over the electric load and sell electricity at retail. This means, of course, that Escanaba would lose a lush source of revenue in profits.

As pointed out above, all of the solutions put the city in a less favorable situation than presently prevails from a financial standpoint. All of the solutions, however, provide for more power than is presently available and that is of considerable importance, too.

BROKEN RECORD (Sault Evening News)

A British diplomat who is conversant with the American jazz idiom "bebop," recently succeeded in confounding Russia's Andrei Vishinsky as well as a number of United Nations translators. After Vishinsky had made a long and repetitious speech the British diplomat asked the assembly to "Dig that broken record." Translated into the kind of English the diplomat was taught at Cambridge the remark meant "Listen to the man repeat himself." The Chinese translator interpreted the remark as "Recover the phonograph record which you have discarded."

Purists can make a good case against the use of slang and jargon. While such expressions can be fresh and even illuminating, they are often less effective than good usage and they can become very tiresome. As for the phrase "Dig that broken record," however, it is hard to think of a better way to describe what the Russian representatives try to pass off as public speeches and reasoning.

Speeders lead the list of those who trouble the court, says a judge. All because they court trouble.

Keeping a machine well oiled results in its making less noise. That's not true of most humans.

The Doctor Says . . .

Humans Subject to Many Urges; Strongest Is Desire for Sweets

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Human beings are subject to all sorts of strange things, one of the strangest being the subject raised in today's first letter.

Q—I am 39 years old and for the past three months have developed a terrible craving for sweets—candy, cake, and more candy. I have never been much for sweets before, but now I am putting on weight. What is this anyway?

J. L.

A—Abnormal craving goes under the name of pica, and sometimes the craving is not for food, but for such substances as chalk, or plaster off the walls. What brings it about is somewhat obscure and I do not know of any treatment except to resist the urge. In L's case, the excessive consumption of sweets might lead to diabetes or some other condition associated with overweight so it should certainly be stopped as soon as possible.

Q—My mother has for many years been developing a large toxic goiter, but has never been a person to "doctor." In the past two years she has shown numerous signs of illness, and finally had to go to a doctor, who advised her to have surgery at once because her weight has been going down steadily. This she refuses. What should we do?

Reader.

A—It is certainly dangerous for your mother to go on with a large, toxic goiter, and you should make every effort to persuade her to have it out.

Q—About three years ago I was eating breakfast when I felt like yawning. Instead, my jaw pulled to the left, my arms stiffened, and I passed out. This has happened several times since and I wonder if it could be a brain tumor or a heart attack.

Mrs. B.

A—This is certainly an unusual experience. Several possibilities would have to be considered, including a condition known as carotid sinus syncope. Diagnostic studies should be made to determine the cause definitely.

Q—Please explain the difference between a psychiatrist, a psychoanalyst, and a psychologist.

C. B.

A—A psychiatrist is a physician who specializes in mental illness; a psychoanalyst is a practitioner of psychoanalysis, which is a method of studying the mental processes and may be considered one branch of psychiatry. A psychoanalyst is also a physician. A psychologist is usually not trained as a physician, but practices the branch of science known as psychology. He studies mental operations and behavior, either in human beings or in lower animals.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—"In what royal family has the father and all his sons ascended the throne?" asked Mrs. A. Mitchell Palmer at an embassy dinner the other day.

Part of the answer arrives in Washington today—King Paul of Greece. He is the third son of King Constantine, who, together with all three of his sons, has ruled over the friendly, turbulent, vitally strategic country of Greece.

King Constantine, considered pro-German, was removed by the Allies in 1917. His son Alexander, who succeeded him, was bitten by a monkey and died. His father came back to the throne in 1920, to be succeeded the same year by Crown Prince George, who, after being put on and off the throne, and after heading his government during the hectic World War II years, died in 1949.

His younger brother Paul, now being welcomed in Washington, succeeded George and, thanks to a devoted wife plus American aid, has remained permanent and popular. In a country where living is rough, politics rough, and where the man in the street takes out his troubles on the crown, this is a real achievement.

FLABBERGASTED AMBASSADOR
Ambassador Athanasios Politis of Greece was sitting in his embassy on Massachusetts Avenue trying to dodge phone calls from society matrons angling for invitations to the already jam-packed reception for the King and Queen of Greece.

"Someone else who wants an invitation," he murmured to himself as George C. Vournas, prominent Washington attorney, walked in.

"I have brought the deed to the three lots next to your embassy," announced Vournas. "As you know, they were purchased some years ago by the late William G. Helis. Now his son has decided to present them to the government of Greece."

"Mr. Helis, Jr., is anxious to carry out his father's dream of solidifying Greek-American friendship," continued Vournas, "and would like to contribute this land for the purpose of erecting a building in which the Greek people can be displayed. Mr. Helis believes that the school children who come to Washington every year would be greatly interested in visiting such a building."

Ambassador Politis looked at the three deeds, duly executed in favor of the Greek government.

"Do you mean to say that this property is now really ours?" he asked.

"You can go out and hold Greek dances on it tomorrow," replied Helis's attorney.

Note—The late Bill Helis, Sr., an immigrant from Greece, built up an oil fortune in Louisiana and a racing stable in New Jersey. His son has dedicated any oil found through his father's drilling operations in Greece to the betterment of Greek-American friendship.

EZRA BENSON'S ERRORS
Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson is a sincere believer in the Biblical teaching that the righteous shall be rewarded and that the guilty shall atone for their sins and errors.

It is highly doubtful that he has committed any previous sins; though he would be the first to admit his errors. And today he may look back with regret on a meeting in the National Press Club auditorium three years ago when his friends, the American Livestock Association, the American Meat Institute, the Farm Bureau, et al, rallied to knock down price ceilings and let the price of meat find its own level.

The meeting was held as perspiring, beleaguered Mike Di Salle, then price administrator, was trying to roll back the price of meat. The Korean War was on. Beef was 125 per cent of parity. Di Salle wanted to stop the inflation. But Benson and cattle friends wanted prices to go higher.

"Let the cattle breed," they said, "let the price take care of itself."

Eventually they succeeded. Di Salle was stopped from rolling back the price of beef to 100 per cent of parity. Instead, the price soared to 138 per cent. Eventually, Benson and his then warm friends, the cattlemen, abolished OPS altogether.

Some years earlier, in the Hotel Washington, Benson attended another meeting aimed at undercutting the price controls of OPS. After the meeting he signed a joint press release, as the representative of the cooperative council for which he was Washington lobbyist, demanding the end of OPS. Here again he succeeded.

The years passed. Last January, Ezra Benson became Secretary of Agriculture. One of his first appointments as No. 2 man in his far-flung department was True D. Morse, who wrote the program aimed at ending meat controls under OPS. The plan was called "a common-sense meat program" by True D. Morse, and just two weeks ago, speaking to the American Meat Institute Ezra mentioned this program in almost laudatory manner.

Last Friday when Ezra lunched at the White House, sitting with him at the table with the President was Don Paarlberg, new chief economic adviser to the Agriculture Department, who, while at Cornell University, wrote a book viciously attacking OPS. The price of food, he demanded, should take care of itself.

Even though wrong, therefore, Ezra Benson has been completely, continuingly consistent.

Red River Navy's Major Job Is To Keep Reds On The Shore

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Staff Correspondent

ON THE RED RIVER, Indo-China—(NEA)—During the night wild shots stabbed out from the banks at our small gunboat and we fired back, our tracers breaking the blackness like fireflies.

During the day huge water buffaloes, heavy as tanks, rolled on their backs in the oozing mud at the river's edge with the gleeful agility of kittens.

That's two memories I have of 24 hours aboard this nameless boat—"Number 9166"—covering the war against communism on the Red River in Indo-China.

Our flotilla of 20 armored boats—hardly bigger than Great Lakes pleasure craft—scooted up and down a strip of the muddy river like nervous waterbugs on a placid pond.

Here the Red River runs behind Communist positions. Our assignment: to prevent two battalions of Communists—being pushed toward the river by attacking French Foreign Legionnaires and Indo-Chinese commandos—from crossing to escape capture or death.

So far, mission accomplished—as far as we can tell. There has been no organized crossing, although the enemy has hundreds of sampans for such emergency. Perhaps individuals, hanging onto banana tree trunks, paddled over at night. It was as black as the interior of a sheep: only a thin slice of moon tried with mild success to penetrate heavy clouds. And at points the river's waistline measures but seven or eight city blocks.

It would have been suicide for Communists to try a sampan ferry. They didn't.

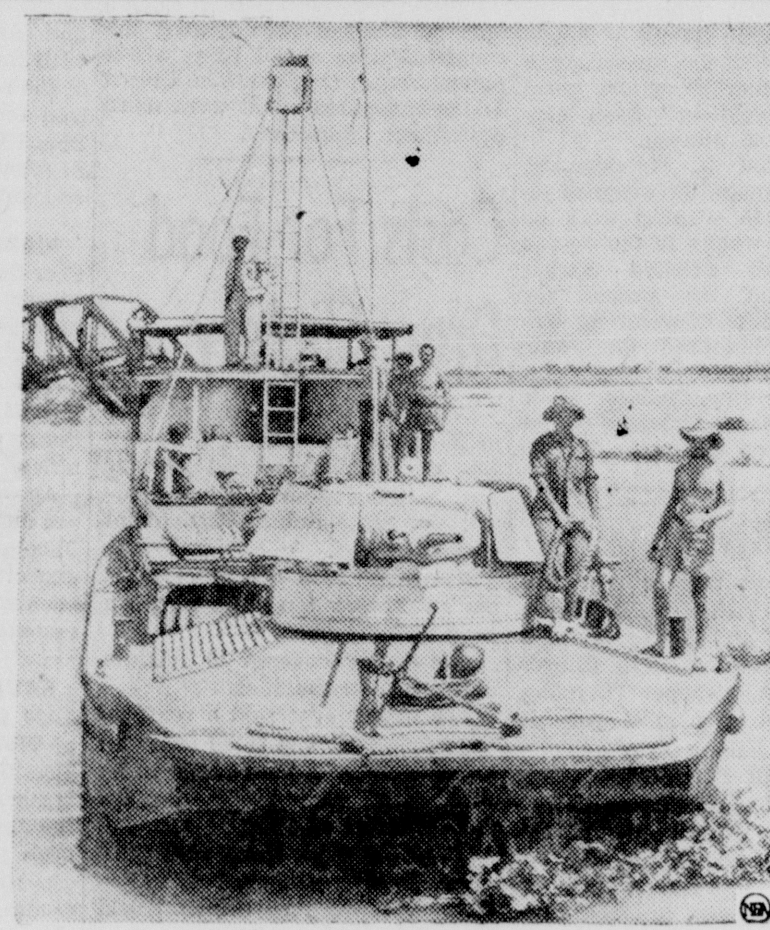

This operational use of river boats is typical of the strange war in Indo-China, where both sides criss-cross each other's lines like a game of tick-tack-toe. The French sail deep into Redland, for neighboring "neutral" China is yet to give local Communists any warships.

But as the lists of dead and missing Allied sailors show, a river boat can be challenged from the shore. The other day an American-donated LCI (Landing Craft, Infantry) was sunk by a mine. Every day French and Indo-Chinese sailors are shot from the banks, and several boats have been lost to bazookas and mortars. Even in French zones, guerrilla snipers snuggle deep in riverside foliage. Deck gauges are hardly encouraged. Cargo and passenger ships are escorted by gunboats, miniature copies of World War II ocean convoys.

Nothing sails after dark unless on combat duty, like the "9166," and we crept along blacked out. A deckhand carelessly lit a cigarette and received a tongue lashing sufficient to make a tiger rug blink.

The wheelhouse, a favorite target, is fenced by armor plate. The helmsman stands on a ledge to peer over the top, manipulating the wheel with bare feet.

When the "9166" cuts through exceptionally high jungle, a lookout climbs a unique crow's nest, an armored high-chair 20 feet above deck. With binoculars he scans the towering brush.

During the day the skipper—Ensign Jacques Olivier, of Toulon—also watches the banks with powerful rifle handy. Any face peering from a palm tree at the ship with evil eye might have same shot out by Marksman Olivier.

We passed streams of sampans with fishermen spreading their nets. They were made to keep a fair distance. It is not unknown for one to slip alongside and pitch a grenade aboard.

Ugly war scars were visible and village church after church was blackened by Communist fire. Children naked as peeled oranges waved us by. Village headmen were spotted by the black umbrellas they carry, a sign of political dignity in Indo-China.

At regular intervals during the night lead whizzed our way and French weapons blistered back. The advantage was with the foe, for at least we were silhouetted against the water. Fortunately, the Communists are as wild as a golf duffer. Our gunmen could see nothing—it was like trying to hunt rabbits blindfolded.

The Oriental dance—where the sun comes up like thunder out of China cross the way—is a thing that makes man, fighting another one of his endless wars, full well realize that his power, even with H-bombs, is small stuff.

And with daylight came our planes, American-built Bearcats. They strafed and bombed the retreating enemy between the Red River and the lines of advancing infantry.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

FOR THE PEOPLE—Information from a variety of sources has been presented to the city of Escanaba and its people in connection with the city's (and the people's) problem of obtaining electric power.

The seriousness of the problem is not minimized by the fact that the present power contract with Upper Michigan Power & Light Company, subsidiary of the Mead Corporation, will not expire until Aug. 1, 1959.

There is and will continue to be a shortage of electric power for the industries, shops, stores, offices and homes of our people in Escanaba until additional power is generated.

The question is who will supply the additional electric generating capacity, rather than how it will be generated.

For it has now been established that the Escanaba River, already harnessed for waterpowered electric generation, can not furnish additional hydroelectric power. The construction of a steam generated power plant is now the only feasible solution from the engineering standpoint.

MEETING THE NEED—The time will undoubtedly come when atomic power will be used to generate electricity—but for this the people of Escanaba cannot wait.

Meanwhile the question of who will build the generating plant, powered by steam, to supply our electric needs now and for many years to come, is receiving headline consideration.

Spokesmen for private power companies insist that they and they alone, can do the job best. They also insist that the city should abandon thought of building its own generating plant—and also should sell its electric distribution system to a private power company.

In other words, the city should "get out of the power" business completely, they say.

It should concern itself with the needs of the community only from the viewpoint of what would be an assured and continuing supply of power privately generated and privately distributed. This would meet the needs of the community, say the private power people.

MUNICIPAL INTEREST—There are other considerations than supplying electricity to the people, according to the viewpoint of those who favor the construction of a municipally-owned and operated electric utility.

They point to the city's revenue from electric distribution—purchasing the power wholesale at a favorable rate and selling it to the people at a profit to the city.

This profit—over $200,000 annually—helps meet the city's budget and supplies public services which could not otherwise be provided without an increase in income from some other source. And the only other source is taxes on real and personal property.

So the spokesmen for municipal power tell the people they would be better served by financing construction of a generating plant and sharing in the resulting profits.

The people have complete control over such a program. They could accept or reject the proposed revenue bond issue to build a plant, and if management of the plant was unsatisfactory they could call upon the City Council to correct it.

SLOGAN THINKING—In the exchange of argument from the two viewpoints there has been occasional lapse into "slogan thinking" by some of the people supporting one side or the other in the debate on Private vs. Public Power.

For their benefit let us ask that they refrain from voicing such phrases as the following:

Vested Interests, Socialistic, Power Monopoly, Communist, Reactionary and others.

No good point can be made in approaching the problem of generating electric power by repeating slogans. Facts and figures, particularly related to the benefit accruing to the people of Escanaba, are all-important.

SUMMARY—Fortunately there is time for a thorough and unbiased examination of the community's electric problem before expiration of the present contract on Aug. 1, 1959.

The people of Escanaba will want to know all of the facts—they must have all of the facts—before deciding to "get into or out of the power business."

And the ultimate decision will be that of the people, for no municipal generating plant can be built or the city-owned electric distribution system sold, without the consent and approval of the people.

Political Unrest Hits British Guiana Colony

WASHINGTON—Political unrest has focused world attention on Britain's only possession in continental South America—British Guiana on the South Atlantic coast between Venezuela and Dutch Surinam.

The colony of 80,000 square miles is an under-developed tropical treasure house, says the National Geographic Society. Coastal areas produce rich crops of sugar and its profitable by-product, rum. Inland, guarded by thick jungles, are potentially wealthy deposits of gold, diamonds, aluminum ore and possibly oil.

Britain is a comparative newcomer to Guiana. The Dutch began trading there around 1595 and were soon joined by the French, who still hold French Guiana to the east of Surinam. England's early interests were in Surinam. They ended when Surinam was exchanged with Holland for Nieuw Amsterdam, better known today as New York.

Backed By Privateers
In 1740, however, a few English planters from the West Indies established themselves in what is now British Guiana, and British privateers 40 years later made good their interests by force of arms. Retaken by the French for their Dutch allies, Guiana eventually was ceded to England in 1814-15, when the Napoleonic Wars ended.

So impenetrable was the hinterland that no one surveyed it, and for years Venezuela and Britain argued over the boundary. The United States brought about a settlement at the beginning of this century by threatening to invoke the Monroe Doctrine.

Content with the coastal belt and its sugar, British settlers long left interior Guiana to the aboriginal Carib and Arawak Indians and to a few hardy Europeans who paddled up the steaming rivers for gold, alluvial diamonds and balata, the wild jungle rubber. In 1937, however, Britain began continuing efforts to develop the whole country.

Georgetown, the colony's capital, is known to Americans who served at the Air Force's nearby Atkinson Field, a facility obtained in the "destroyers-for-bases" deal of World War II days. The field, if not the city is familiar to the many American troops who returned from Europe via the Mar-

Counterfeit Labels

About all they saw during their brief pause for refueling was the exotic jungle at the field's edge and a few enterprising local citizens selling perfume. Bottles contained a passable product made in Guiana, but wartime peddlers usually pasted on counterfeit French labels.

The 1948 census gave the population as a little over 400,000.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS
Wednesday, October 28, 1953 — 5

Nearly half are descendants of East Indians imported after the abolition of slavery to till the sugar fields. Only five per cent are Europeans.

Geographically, Guiana has three belts: low coastal plains with thick jungle; savannas where livestock thrives; and farther inland still, mountains. Most famous of these is Mt. Roraima, with a flat top and perpendicular sides 2,000 feet high. Rivers thus far are the land's chief highways.

Should forest resources be developed, Guiana will produce a wealth of greenheart, mora and wallaba—all building lumber—as well as precious cabinet woods. Lumbermen will have to accustom themselves to fauna that includes jaguars, vampire bats, manatees, huge boa constrictors and some of the most poisonous snakes in the world, including the dreaded bushmaster.

Mrs. Luery was born in Marinette and lived in Escanaba nearly all of her life. She was a member of R. C. Hathaway Chapter 49 Order of the Eastern Star, and the Hadassah Chapter.

Her husband died Dec. 6, 1952. She is survived by one son, Robert of New York City and two sisters, Mrs. Herman Gessner of Escanaba and Mrs. Edna Bellin of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Escanaba.

The body was taken to the Alo Funeral Home where friends may call beginning at noon Thursday. Funeral services will be held and interment made at noon Friday at Montmore Cemetery in Marinette.

No Action Yet In Narcotics Case

No action was taken this morning in Circuit Court on the request of registered nurse Fannie Dale Smythe of Escanaba, charged with obtaining narcotic drugs by fraud, for a new examination in justice court.

Alger Strom, attorney for Miss Smythe, asked for such an examination Tuesday, claiming Miss Smythe was entitled to it because the state had made a new charge against the former St. Francis Hospital nurse.

County Prosecutor Nicholas Chapekis is conducting the case for the state.

Judge Edward Fenlon of Petoskey granted one divorce in court this morning, County Clerk William Butler said.

Butler said the judge will sentence criminal offenders sometime Thursday morning. Scheduled for sentencing are four persons who Monday afternoon pleaded guilty to the offenses with which they are charged. They are: Jeanine Nelson of Escanaba, obtaining morphine tablets by fraud; Darrel Rajala of Maple Ridge Township, indecent liberties; Thomas P. Goedert of Escanaba Rte. 1, robbery unarm; and William La-Crosse of Gladstone, indecent liberties.

Problem: Get A U-Boat Under Three Low Bridges Clairmont Asks To Serve Wells

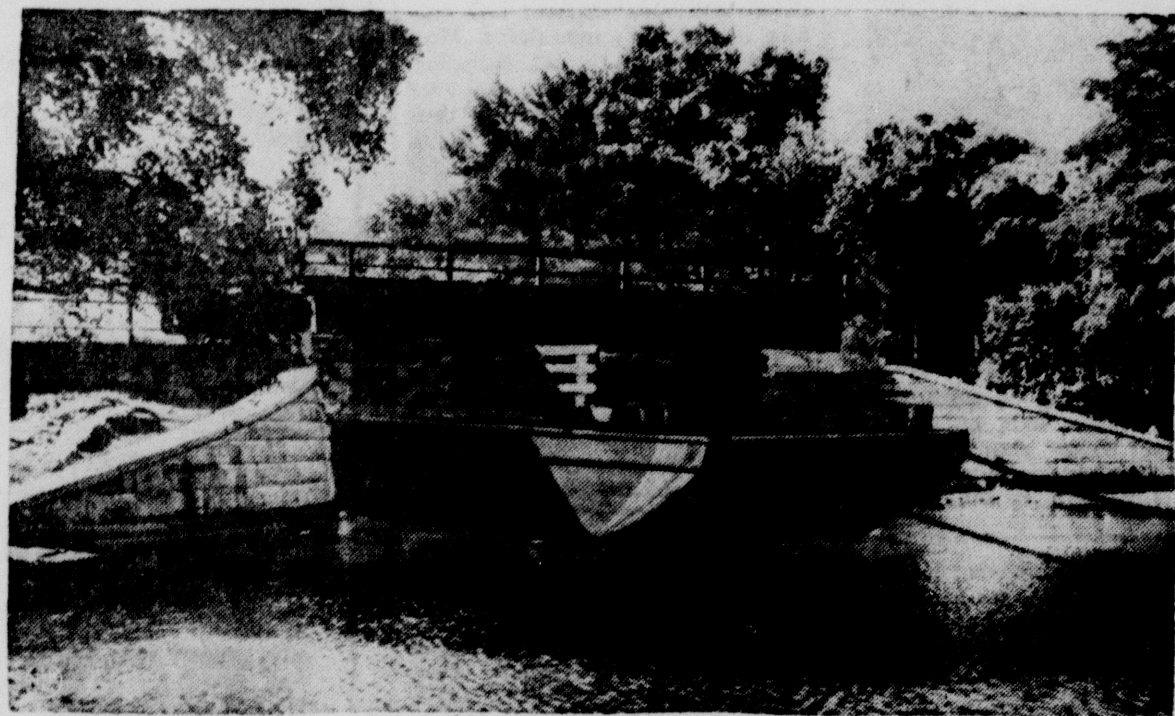

How does a submarine get under low bridges? Easy, you say. It submerges. Not—however—the U-505. This submarine, soon to be brought into Chicago's Jackson Park, no longer operates under water. To get it past the low bridges to the Museum of Science and Industry, where it will be displayed as a memorial to the war dead of the Central States, other methods must be used. The bridge at lower left, below, links two park harbors. Here the channel will be dredged deep enough for the sub to float under the bridge with just inches to spare. At another, similar, bridge the same system will be used. Trickiest job is the one planned for the bridge shown below in artist's conception at upper right. Because this bridge is metal and has no arch, it is possible to cut the bridge free and lift it off its abutments. A barge, with cradle of timbers, will slide under it and tote it away. This is cheaper than dredging. Another barge will tow the U-boat through.

U-505 in Portsmouth, N. H. drydock, being reconditioned.

Artist's version of how barge (with cradle of timber) will lift bridge before towing it off. Another barge will tow the submarine through.

U-505 will have to pass under this arched stone bridge and another like it. Channels will be dredged so sub can pass under.

U-505 will take in its journey from Lake Michigan to its berth in Columbia Basin in Jackson Park.

Blazing Truck Kills Driver Fleeing With Cigarette Hijack Loot

DETROIT (AP)—A wild chase by FBI agents ended today with a truck driver burning to death in a truck identified as carrying part of the $50,000 loot in a Pontiac cigarette hijacking.

The victim was identified as Carl Chester Ross Rudzinski, 35, of Garden City.

Agents announced that five men and a woman had been arrested for investigation in the robbery Monday night.

They disclosed no details and did not name those held. Hijackers swiped a truck of the National Transit Co. branch in Pontiac Monday night. It was found abandoned—its cargo of cigarettes missing—on a road flat Rock Tuesday.

"The FBI was called in on the case on the suspicion that the cigarette thieves were part of a ring preying on interstate cigarette shipments.

Four agents, patrolling in suburban Brownstown township Tuesday night, spotted a van-like truck bearing no identification and without license plates.

Agents tried to stop the truck but its driver raced away at high speed, zigzagging and forcing motorists off the road. The truck finally crashed into a ditch in Romulus township near the Detroit-Wayne Major Airport and was ripped apart by a shattering explosion.

The driver was trapped in the flaming truck. Firemen could not reach the body until after the blaze was extinguished.

Identification of the driver was made from bits of charred papers found in his pocket.

FBI agents said they had definitely identified the cigarettes found in the wreck of the truck as about one-third of the Pontiac loot. This was established through stenciling on the cartons.

Search Pushed For Babysitter Who Vanished

pieces of evidence which we have mean nothing now, but might fit into a pattern. Nothing points conclusively at any suspect at this time."

The distraught father of the missing girl issued an appeal last night for the return of his daughter.

"I'm appealing to the abductor to return my daughter," Richard Hartley, a Wisconsin State College professor said. "Wherever you may be and whether she is dead or alive, her mother and I want her returned."

A white brassiere and panties, of a size worn by the 15-year-old girl "who never went out with boys because she thought she was too young," bore stains which Dist. Atty. John Bosshard told newsmen Tuesday night "could be blood."

"They have not been identified conclusively as Evelyn's," Bosshard said, "but her parents told us she wore things like that and that they were the right size. We have sent them to the state crime laboratory at Madison for analysis."

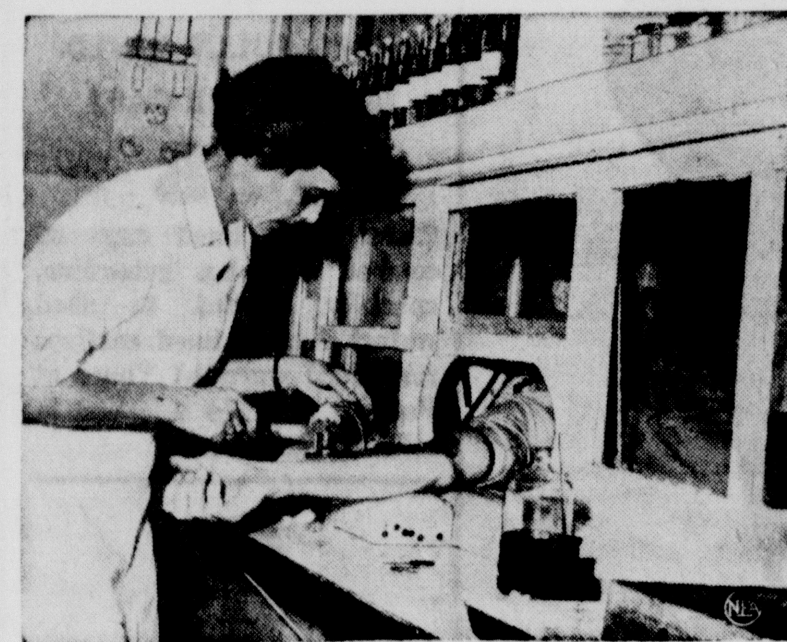

The underclothing was found Tuesday on the Burlington Railroad right of way beneath a highway overhead two miles southeast of La Crosse.

"It looked like they might have been thrown from a car and blown under the bridge," Bosshard said. Simultaneously, with word of the clothing discovery, Bosshard told of what he called "a large pool of blood" on a highway about 12 miles south of where the lingerie was found. The search was intensified in that area.

Car Not Found
The district attorney admits there isn't a real clue to the abductor's identity. A chunky middle-aged salesman, wanted elsewhere for a sex crime, was turned over to the charging authorities Tuesday when his alibi checked out here. A few other sex deviates are being questioned. The car used for the getaway hasn't been found.

Officials so far have declined to admit that the missing high school junior probably was murdered. There isn't much doubt, though, in the minds of most residents of this Mississippi River city.

The United States has 495,000,000 acres of forest land.

BLOOD DEPOSIT AT TELLER'S WINDOW—Here's a blood bank that resembles the kind of bank that handles money. Keeping deposits equal to withdrawals is the main object of this bank, Indianapolis. A teller's window to which depositors are directed. Here, a teller takes blood from a depositor who has his arm through the opening.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was mixed today. Price movements were small with few exceptions.

Business was rather slow and maintained a pace right around Tuesday's 1,700,000 shares, which was below average.

Among declining stocks were Chesapeake & Ohio, 20th Century-Fox, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, General Motors, Studebaker, National Distillers, and American Telephone.

Higher were Republic Steel, Douglas Aircraft, Phelps Dodge, American Woolen, Bohu Aluminum, New York Central and Missouri Pacific preferred.

Corporate bonds were higher in selective trading. U. S. government securities in and over the counter market were steady to lower.

Open Danforth Road To Traffic Tonight

Danforth Road, under repair within the city limits, is scheduled to be opened to traffic tonight but motorists have been requested to drive cautiously because of the soft shoulders.

A section of the road has received fill and a gravel surface. The roadway at its east end in the city limits has not been improved because of the possibility that the city will in the future have to reroute it to intersect with US-241 at a point further north.

NO SPECIAL SESSION
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today there will be no special session of Congress to consider the general farm situation. He said the only possibility of such a session would relate to drought and disaster.

In ruling out such a special congressional meeting, Eisenhower told his news conference the administration's farm program will be ready for presentation to the lawmakers when they reconvene in January.

Eisenhower said he wants the administration's farm program to meet the needs of all areas and of all various commodity groups. And that, he said, is difficult. He called it a tough problem to balance meat against grain and still look after the consumer's interest.

Eisenhower was asked to comment on the economic outlook for the next six months in view of lower farm prices. He said he wouldn't care to do that without more information from official advisers.

BRANDING FOR SAFETY—Special license plates, to brand dangerous drivers is Martha Berglund's idea for reducing traffic fatalities. A worker in the governor's office in Minneapolis, Minn., she is shown examining a display poster of the red and white plates which would serve as a warning to safe drivers and, perhaps, make convicted dangerous drivers toe the mark.

Sportsmen Discuss Opening Of Deer Hunting Season

The Delta County Sportsmen's club discussed an effort to secure a Saturday opening for the deer hunting season and heard committee reports at a meeting in the City Hall on Tuesday evening. Preliminary plans for "red shirt" night were made and the date for the event was tentatively set for Nov. 11.

Treasurer Roy Olson reported a steady growth in the building fund. Reports of the membership committee and a special committee on resolving the conflict between coyote trapping and the use of bird dogs in October were received.

Cliff Long of the fisheries division of the conservation department told of the recent planting of 6,000 surplus fish, 2,000 each of brook, brown and rainbow trout in the Escanaba river. The fish were distributed in seven or eight locations in the river from Boney Falls to the Burnt Camps.

Discussion of the Saturday deer hunt opening proposal was lengthy and ended in a decision to bring it up at the December meeting when experience of the 1953 season can be weighed. The 1952 season was a Saturday

Farm Pair Held In Smoke Theft

DETROIT (AP)—A 45-year-old farmer and his wife were arrested today in the $50,000 theft of a truck carrying cigarettes and household goods from a Pontiac terminal.

FBI agents identified the couple as William Laforest of near Trenton, and his wife, Ernestine, 43.

F. H. McIntire, chief of the Detroit FBI bureau, said the couple would be arraigned today on federal charges of possessing stolen goods in inter-state shipment.

McIntire said the Laforests were arrested on a tip.

Agents found 14 cartons of cigarettes, identified as part of the Pontiac loot, hidden in the hayloft of a barn, McIntire said.

In a shed on the couple's farm agents discovered 24 ironing boards, 10 heaters and tables and chairs, all identified as cargo of a truck stolen from the National Transit Co. in Pontiac Monday night.

Third Atomic Blast Set Off By Britain

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Britain set off her third major atomic explosion Tuesday. The blast occurred at southern Australia's desert Woomera rocket range and Australian newspapers speculated it involved testing of a new detonating device.

O-Jib-Wa Worked Wonders I DON'T FEEL LIKE THE SAME PERSON

Thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, my rheumatism and arthritis is gone and I can get around again says Mrs. Thelma Huff, R No. 2, Ortonville, Michigan.

Mrs. T. Huff

When I look back, just a short time ago, and think how I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism and arthritis through-out my entire body, it seems impossible that one medicine could do so on a tractor and help with the much—so soon. Every joint ached and pained and my hands and feet hurt so that I couldn't do any work except get meals, and that was hard. I could get about the house only by using a cane or by holding on to the back of a chair. My husband had to help me out of bed and then I could hardly bear to stand, as my ankles and feet were so bad. I used many things that were supposed to help, and after many disappointments was ready to give up altogether. A friend urged me to try O-JIB-WA BITTERS as a last resort, so I decided to give it a good trial. I seemed to be a little worse at the start and didn't see much change in the first month, but after that, quickly got better. I really feel great now and whereas I couldn't get in or out of a car before, I now climb out on a tractor and help with the haying. O-JIB-WA BITTERS seemed to have completely conditioned me as I no longer catch colds easily and have lots of pep. O-JIB-WA BITTERS worked such wonders with me that I can hardly believe that I'm the same person. I sure recommend it highly, and urge all who suffer as I did, not to delay in trying O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I believe that it's the best medicine made for rheumatism and arthritis."

Mechanical Brain Gets Job Mixing 2000 Hues

MECHANICAL ARTIST—This machine mixes and matches 2,000 colors. William M. Stuart, its developer, shows how it delivers a quart of any colored paint in 12 seconds.

AP Newsfeatures
CHICAGO—If you've ever tried to match a paint color in home decorating, you'll appreciate this. William M. Stuart, president of the Martin-Senour Co., has figured out a machine that looks undramatic but does a lot of dramatic things with color. Stuart also is godfather of a comprehensive color mixing system. Colors can be put together by formula.

He called on Arthur G. Russell of the Russell Machine Co., Forestville, Conn., to build a machine that would mix paint automatically and accurately. Russell's result is a precision gadget that mixes paint in a matter of seconds. It's a pilot model.

Some 2,000 colors can be mixed with it. The machine puts the paint together by formula. Correct proportions are obtained by a unit system of 1,000 to a quart.

Only 12 basic ingredients are required. Combinations are mixed from three primary hues—red, blue and yellow—and the three secondary hues of green, violet and orange, plus a graying agent called shade-x and basic whites.

The paint is mixed and pumped to containers by pistons placed at the back of the machine. When a customer orders a color, the dial-like settings at the top are used. These are divided into 1,000 unit scales and each one is assigned to a color.

To get a plum color, for example, the dealer would set the machine to deliver 260 units of red, 30 units of purple, 210 units of shade-x, 250 units of mix-x and 250 units of flat. A container is placed in the center of the machine, a lever is pushed and the machine does the rest. A quart of paint is delivered in 12 seconds.

Dangerous Discarded Refrigerators Made Safe In 2 Minutes

CHICAGO (AP)—Each of 28 children who were smothered in abandoned refrigerators this year died because two small screws held firmly in place, a service expert said.

"You can render virtually any refrigerator harmless by removing the lock stop from the doorsill. In most models this metal part is held by only two screws," said Harry D. Busby, statistician for the Refrigeration Service Engineers Society.

Busby said that 8,000 members of this group—the men who maintain and repair refrigerators—have pledged their help to their communities in making old iceboxes harmless in their communities.

"But anyone can do it," he said. "It takes about two minutes, and it doesn't damage the refrigerator or keep it from being put back into service."

The service engineers' group has records of 83 child deaths in 49 refrigerator accidents occurring in the United States and Canada since 1945.

SPIDER'S TRAP

The spider builds her nest as a snare, for the capture of prey, and therefore it must be as inconspicuous as possible. Dew renders it almost useless, since no careful fly would fly into such a glittering, jeweled object.

The earphones reproduce sound by magnetic waves from any radio by means of wires running around the room. The contraption weighs less than two ounces, is non-electrical and non-battery. It is designed for use in hospitals, beauty salons and other places where private listening is desired.

Anthony Eden Still Sick Man; He's The Ghost Of Whitehall

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
LONDON—(NEA)—Great Britain has a phantom for foreign secretary. Anthony Eden is the ghost over Whitehall.

True, he is back in London after a month of recuperating in Greece. But he hasn't yet cleared his desk of his accumulated papers.

He has a gorgeous tan and the same toothy, "Bugs Bunny" grin. But he wears his Mediterranean tan like pancake make-up, and observers have the feeling that behind the grin is an ill man, who hasn't yet got a grip on himself.

His hair is much whiter than when Britons saw him last.

Foreign Office spokesmen are vague as to Eden's future plans. "Yes, Mr. Eden was in his office today, although he didn't stay long. No, he saw no heads of departments. No, Lord Salisbury is not planning to move out."

Meanwhile, in political circles there is a growing feeling of uneasiness, which is beginning to filter to the man in the streets. Who's running the Foreign Office anyway? Whose hand is at the helm?

It is as though John Foster Dulles should return from Bermuda after a long illness and divide his time between the State Department and St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Also imagine President Eisenhower none too steady on his pins and one gets a picture of the present Conservative government. For despite his growls that he is "still in command," Prime Minister Winston Churchill to date has shown few signs of grasping the reins of government firmly since his doctors ordered him to bed months ago.

Even the joy with which Britons viewed Churchill's strong speech at the Conservative rally recently did not conceal their concern for his declining health.

Observers are agreed that Britain's present predicament cannot continue much longer, and that Churchill will have to make drastic changes in his cabinet before or soon after Parliament convenes in November.

The obvious change, in the opinion of many, is to replace Eden as Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs if, as appears likely, his health will not permit him to resume the No. 2 job.

The "happy" solution being urged by some Conservatives is to make Eden Deputy Prime Minister, thus relieving Churchill of some of the burdens of his office.

That the Conservative government, like its Labor predecessor, is killing off its leaders with overwork is a truth that is slowly beginning to dawn. Eden, and Churchill himself have been victims of delegating "too much to too few," just as Ernie Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps were in the previous Labor government.

Today there is no excuse for not delegating authority more widely, Churchill's critics argue. The

ANTHONY EDEN AND WIFE: The same "Bugs Bunny" grin, but behind it observers have the feeling there's an ill man.

Conservative Party has new rising lights in Butler, Macmillan and Monckton.

Sir Walter Monckton, present Minister of Labor, and Lord Salisbury are being spoken of as the most likely candidates for Eden's job should he retire as Foreign Secretary.

Should Eden retire he will leave behind him a career that reads like a political mystery story. It is a story of "always the bridesmaid, but never the bride." For 30 years Eden has been spoken of as a likely Prime Minister, yet he has never quite made the grade.

His career has all of the ingredients of the perfect success story: a family with money, Eton, Oxford, a distinguished war record, member of Parliament at the age of 26. Yet Eden lacks the warm, human quality of a Churchill. People still speak of him as "the great white knight," but like the knight, Eden is aloof, impersonal, a symbol.

Comparing the two top men of the British government, Cassandria, the political columnist of the Daily News, wrote recently: "Churchill knows how to growl. Does Eden?"

"Churchill knows how to scare the daylight out of ugly customers. Can Eden express anything more than distaste and disapproval?"

"The Golden Boy of Promise has been waiting too long.

"He is nearly 60 and although he has ripened he has not progressed.

"He has matured — on the ground. He has waited patiently on the runway. He has never really taken off.

"He may yet become Prime Minister, but in the political firmament he will shine with a cold, pale and sickly light. Other and hotter suns are rising within the Tory Party."

'Mountains Of Moon' Surveyed In Africa

WASHINGTON—Recent surveys of British and Belgian scientists have confirmed deposits of gold, radioactive ores, and other valuable minerals in Africa's mysterious "Mountains of the Moon," one of the world's least known regions.

A wilderness of weird forests shrouded in mist, the Ruwenzori, as the mountains are officially known, are a pocket-size range 70 miles long and 30 miles wide, forming the boundary between the British Protectorate of Uganda and the Belgian Congo.

Although the range lies only half a degree north of the equator in the midst of steaming tropical jungles, its peaks are perpetually snowclad, says the National Geographic Society.

Fantastic Flora

Midway up the Ruwenzori's misty slopes heather plants—relatives of the low Scottish shrub—grow to heights of 60 and 70 feet. Huge cushions of vividly colored moss encircle the trunks, and limbs are festooned with streaming pendants of pale green lichens. A bit higher, varieties of lobelia, groundsel and other common garden weeds grow to tree size.

There is no human life above 7,216 feet, site of the highest native village. Water buffaloes occasionally range up to the 7,000-foot level, and elephants are common in the bamboo forests up to 8,500 feet. Leopards and a few antelopes have been sighted as high as 13,000 feet. Bright-feathered birds abound at lower altitudes. Topping the range are six groups of snow peaks. Each group is considered as one mountain. Mt. Stanley is the highest of the six groups. All four of its peaks — Margherita, Alexandra, Elena and Savoia—are more than 16,000 feet high. They spawn many small glaciers.

Known To Ancients

Once thought to contain King Solomon's fabulous mines, the Ruwenzori were first mapped by the ancient Greek cartographer, Ptolemy. From descriptions given him by travelers, he called the range the "Mountains of the Moon" in the belief that the moon had descended to touch their tips and turn them to silver.

Henry M. Stanley was the first European to explore the range, in 1889. He gave the mountains their modern name, Ruwenzori, a native term, means "King of the Clouds" or "Rain-maker."

Geologists have long been puzzled as to the Ruwenzori's origin. The peaks are not volcanic, as are Kilimanjaro and Kenya, Africa's other major summits. Alongside

UNUSED

In 1843, a tunnel beneath the River Thames, in London, costing thousands of pounds and the lives of seven workmen to complete, was opened to the public. Designed for vehicles, it never served as anything more than an attraction for curious pedestrians.

the Ruwenzori range runs another scientific phenomenon—the so-called "Great Rift Valley," a cleft 1,500 feet deep, 40 miles wide, and many hundreds of miles long.

Presbyterian Children Join In UNICEF Movement

When children of the First Presbyterian Church start out on their traditional Halloween "trick or treat" calls Friday evening they will not be asking for themselves. The youngsters, under the supervision of their Church School teachers, have joined the rapidly spreading movement to turn "trick or treat" into a benefit to obtain food for starving children.

Instead of big paper bags to gather in candy, nuts, gum or fruit, the children will have containers labeled UNICEF, United International Children's Emergency Fund. All proceeds, money, that is, will go to the UNICEF.

Of course, there may be additional treats on the side, to reward the young crusaders and to provide Halloween fun for them, as well as help for some hungry child.

Make A Jack-O'-Lantern Pie

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Kids carving Jack-O' Lanterns out of pumpkins? While they're busy and out of the way, surprise the small fry by making Jack-o'-Lantern Pie. It's a pie that will delight the hearts of hobgoblins and other imps on All Hallow's Eve.

There's a special feature to this recipe that older celebrants of Halloween will enjoy. It's made with low calorie nonfat dry milk powder instead of cream. You whip the nonfat milk and fold it into the spiced pumpkin filling and achieve a texture that's smooth as velvet. Such a light and airy dessert tops off a holiday meal delightfully.

The vanilla wafer crumb crust of this pie is so easy to prepare, and nonfat dry milk powder is also used in it too, to step up nutrients. Or use a standard graham cracker crumb or Brazil nut crust. The Jack-o'-Lantern face is made of Brazil-nut slivers.

Jack-O'-Lantern Pie
Ingredients: 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, 1 cup mashed pumpkin (canned), 6 tablespoons sugar, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons molasses, 1/8 cup water, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/3 cup nonfat dry milk powder, 9-inch Vanilla Wafer Crust, Brazil-nut slivers.

Method: Sprinkle gelatin over ¼ cup cold water to soften. Mix pumpkin, sugar, cinnamon, salt and molasses in saucepan. Cook over medium heat until mixture begins to boil; remove from heat. Add softened gelatin; stir until gelatin dissolves. Chill mixture until slightly thickened. Pour 1/3 cup water and 1 tablespoon lemon juice into a 1-quart bowl; sprinkle nonfat dry milk powder over surface and beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until stiff, about 5 to 10 minutes. Fold whipped nonfat milk into slightly thickened pumpkin mixture. Pour into chilled Vanilla Wafer Crust; chill until firm—2 to 3 hours. ## Be Individual About Your Hair

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

With all the rage for extremely short haircuts, don't let your stylist persuade you to have one against your better judgment. There are certain girls who look better with their necks covered.

Prominent among them is the girl with a bad back hair-line. Have you ever watched a girl from behind and seen a short haircut revealing two dark V's on her neck, resembling a man's moustache?

If shaven, these patches of hair will become ugly stubble. This girl's neck will never be pretty when bare unless she uses a wax treatment or another hair removal method that won't leave stubble. If she uses the wax treatment, she must do it every few weeks.

If the patches of hair on her neck are sparse, she can bleach them. But, unless she's a girl who for some reason must have a short cut, she'll have less trouble if she makes it clear to her stylist that she needs length in back.

While she's about it, she might tell her stylist to taper her hair, not cut it bluntly.

Social-Club

St. Catherine's Guild

St. Catherine's Guild will meet Thursday evening, Oct. 29, in the Guild Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church to work on aprons for the card party. It is asked that every member attend the meeting.

Portable electric cooking equipment should be wiped off with a soapy cloth after use to prevent development of black spots.

Halloween's Goblins Will Enjoy Donuts With Cider

HALLOWEEN PIRATES AND GOBLINS will gobble donuts and cider whether donuts are plain or sugared variety. Have plenty.

Sugared, frosted or plain donuts are a "must" for the Halloween party. Buy plenty and stack them on trays or in bowls about the room. Cider, too, is part of the Halloween picture along with bright-red apples.

Stacks of hearty sandwiches and pots of strong clear coffee complete the proper "eats" for the visiting witches and goblins who will knock on your door Oct. 31st.

Donut games can be fun for everyone. Here are three suggestions:

Nose Pushing Donut Contest: Stack sugared donuts three high. Make race lanes on the floor across the length of the room. At the head of each lane place a stack of donuts. The idea is for each contestant to push the stack of donuts across the room with his nose. Hands cannot be used at any time. The first crossing the finish line without tumbling the donuts is the winner.

Swing the Donut: Tie a colored string through a donut hole and suspend from ceiling just at mouth level of various guests. The object of the game is to eat the donut without using hands. Of course the harder the player tries to bite the donut, the more wildly it will swing.

Donut, Donut, Who's Got the Donut?: It's a barrel of fun. The object of the game is to guess which guest in the room has a donut in his mouth. The one who must guess leaves the room. Then one of the guests in the room puts part of a donut in his mouth and keeps it there. The guest who is "it" returns to the room at a whistle signal. He can ask everybody questions, but no one may answer, except to say "M-M-M" without opening his mouth but he or she can shake the head to signify "yes" or "no."

Tomorrow's Dinner: Tomato juice, oven-fried chicken, butter gravy, steamed rice, canned peas, soft rolls, butter or margarine, raw carrot sticks and celery, ginger pears, chocolate brownies, coffee, milk.

Got Sniffles? Keep Groomed

Some girls seem to think that the sympathy people extend to cold sufferers implies an invitation to neglect their grooming.

If one is well enough to appear in public, she should be able to maintain her appearance. Going around the office with a weebegone fac, will endear no one to her coworkers. It just about amounts to lack of consideration for others.

Among the things you can do should sniffles come your way is to pat a rich lubricating cream around your nose. Nightly application will prevent redness.

Of course you won't wash your hair, but you can give it extra brushing and use a dry shampoo or witch hazel on cotton pads.

To ward off that wan look, try using a speck more rouge and eye make-up.

And be careful of your facial tissues. It's not only unpleasant to the eye but it's unsanitary to scatter half-used tissues about your desk. Put a small paper bag next to the tissue box for used tissues and keep the half-used one on your person.

New Way To Check Spinal Diseases

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A new technique for locating injured or diseased areas in the spinal column is reported by the West Los Angeles Veterans Administration Center and doctors of the University of California at Los Angeles.

A substance from blood, human serum albumin, is tagged with radioactive iodine and injected into the spine. A scintillation counter traces this radioactive substance through the spinal column, activating an electric stylus which makes a sketch.

The technique has been used to locate slipped discs and spinal cancers at the Veterans' Hospital. It was developed chiefly by Drs. Franz K. Bauer and Dr. Eric T. Yuhl.

Emeralds Vote To Play Negaunee Grid Contest

MANISTIQUE — The Manistique Emeralds this week voted to fight to retain their Great Lakes Conference championship in a battle with Negaunee at Negaunee either Nov. 6 or 7. The game will be played in the afternoon, probably on Saturday.

Coach Richard Bonifas reports his men are in good physical condition, though they have been off practice for four days. He said his men are pleased to have to fight to hold the championship and had decided they would rather "fight than stay where they were." Short, hard practice sessions were to start today and Coach Bonifas plans to have his men develop more offense. "We'll be doing a lot of running against 7- and 8-man lines in case we hit bad weather again and that type of defense," Bonifas pointed out.

Negaunee was invited to play at Manistique but declined the Emeralds' invitation for a stand here. The Negaunee squad has a record of three wins and three losses and Saturday will play Newberry at Newberry. Three weeks ago the Negaunee grid team spanked Ishpeming 18 to 0.

Negaunee has a heavy line and halfback Gale Harry, the second highest scorer in the GL conference, Bonifas observed. "But we have Bill Holm, the highest scorer in the conference," he added.

Coach Bonifas noted that his men voted to play Negaunee, even though the Emeralds stand a chance of being "beaten out" in the Conference and land in third place in the race. The Manistique squad was to play Negaunee earlier this season but the game was cancelled due to polo.

"Our men have lots of fight, and they proved that in the last 6½ minutes of the game at Ishpeming, when they ran up 14 points to tie the game," Coach Bonifas stated.

Spartans, Wolverines Face Comeback Chores

Penn Will Be No Easy Touch

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Gridiron history indicates it's a toss-up whether Michigan will rebound from the jolting 22-0 defeat by Minnesota. "It takes extra effort to come back," said Coach Bennie Oosterbaan. "Success breeds success but it takes a tremendous effort to overcome a loss."

That's the picture as Michigan prepared for Saturday's clash with upset-minded Pennsylvania.

Every indication is that Penn will be no easy touch. The hungry quakers defeated Vanderbilt and Penn State before losing 40-0 to California. But they extended Ohio State before losing 12-6, and last Saturday upset a good Navy team.

One hopeful note brightened the preparation schedule. Tackle Art Walker was reported ready for limited action.

Walker, normally Michigan's stoutest lineman, saw no action against Minnesota. A pair of leg injuries limited his work for the past three weeks.

The Wolverines ran through a heavy practice session Tuesday. Considerable attention was given to their pass defense which was inept against Minnesota.

Pro Cage Coaches Feel George Mikan Slipping

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—National Basketball Association coaches guessed hopefully today that George Mikan's advancing age would make ordinary mortals of the Minneapolis Lakers.

The pro masterminds said as much in the annual pre-season poll conducted by the Minneapolis Star. They figure that Mikan, now 29, will fade just enough to loosen the iron grasp the Lakers have clamped on the NBA title.

The Lakers and Boston were picked to win western and eastern division titles, but the coaches split evenly between Minneapolis

MSC Goes Back To Fundamentals

By ROBERT E. VOGES
EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State Coach Biggie Munn took his football team back to the fundamentals this week.

After the 6-0 loss to Purdue, Munn chided the squad for poor blocking and tackling in the upset. Due to a downpour of rain, most of Tuesday's workout was held indoors in Jenison Fieldhouse.

Munn stood up in the balcony of the fieldhouse, throwing down verbal darts at the players.

"Does anyone know what shoulder pads are for?" he asked. "Not to make you look bigger. You fellows have been tackling with your chests. If you were supposed to do that, you'd have pads on your chests."

Dr. James Feurig said Muskegon quarterback Earl Morrall definitely would not be over his bout of glandular fever in time to play against Oregon State.

This left Tom Yewic the only seasoned quarterback on hand. Johnny Matsock of Detroit, who got in for only three plays against Purdue, is behind Yewic.

Coaches were working hard with Matsock to prime him for longer duty.

Sport Shorties

A special king-size bed had to be ordered for Texas freshman basketball player Ellis Olmstead. The giant bed measures 85 inches long by 39 inches wide. Olmstead is six feet 10 inches tall.

End coach Marty Pierson and assistant freshman coach Ted Youngling of the Duke football staff played under coach Bill Murray at the University of Delaware.

During the 1952 season the Detroit Lions led the National Football League in home attendance with 262,675 admissions for six home games.

Florida State University has two football guards named Jacobs—Charles of Miami and Jerry of South Bend, Ind. They are not related.

Michigan State quarterback Tom Yewic is a catcher on the baseball team and is considered a major league prospect.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

The Ironwood Red Devils, Escanaba's final grid foe here Saturday, have won only two games from the Eskymos since the series began between the schools in 1945. . . . Escanaba teams have posted five victories and last year's meeting at Ironwood ended in a 0-0 tie.

St. Joe's Dick Bryson undoubtedly is the best second string end in Upper Peninsula high school football. . . . The lanky Trojan, playing football for the first time in his senior year, caught 26 of 31 passes thrown at him by St. Joe backs. . . . Bryson played behind John Berrigan and saw only limited defensive action, but he was death on the receiving end of aerials.

The St. Joe passing attack this season was little short of devastating. . . . The Trojans completed 87 of 151 passes for a total of 1,176 yards in eight games. . . . Their best air game was against Crystal Falls when they completed 12 aerials good for 251 yards. . . . In three of their eight games, the Trojans made more yards passing than they did by rushing. . . . Total rushing yards for the season were 1,367.

Top scorer for Bark River's grid team this season was Ron DeMarse who played only the final two games of the season. . . . DeMarse scored three touchdowns for 18 points. . . . End Wayne Erickson tallied 15, Bill Good seven, Florian Bartoszek and Wallen Godlewski six each. . . . Seniors who played their last game for Coach Tom Janssen this season are Dick Shepherd, captain, Good, DeMarse, Bartoszek, Pete Kashobm, Leonard Lesnieski, Bob Johnson, Ed Grzybowski, Jim LaVigne and Ken Olson.

When Green Bay Central defeated the Menominee Maroons at Walton Blesch Field Saturday night it marked the first home loss for a Menominee team in four years. . . . Big factor in the game, won by Green Bay 14-7, was an 80-yard punt return by Jerry Putman in the third quarter which put Green Bay ahead 12-0.

Last week we mentioned that Stambaugh's Mel Holme was the goat as Minnesota lost to Illinois in a Big Ten grid clash. . . . Well, Holme apparently redeemed himself against Michigan as the Gophers posted a 22-0 upset. . . . Minnesota's backfield coach, Dick Fisher, was high in praise of Holme's performance. . . . "It was a treat to watch Holme cut down the Michigan ends with great blocking, and what a job he did on defense." . . . On offense, Holme carried twice and picked up eight yards.

Leahy Runs Practice From Hospital Bed

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Coach Frank Leahy, by means of a closed television circuit and a direct telephone line, supervised practice of his Notre Dame football squad Tuesday from his hospital bed.

A special micro-wave closed TV circuit was arranged by WSBT-TV, South Bend station, enabling Leahy to watch the Irish practice at Cartier Field, more than a mile away from his room in St. Joseph's Hospital. Leahy was stricken with a stomach ailment at halftime of Notre Dame's 27-14 victory over Georgia Tech Saturday. He is expected to be released Thursday.

Neal Welch, WSBT station manager, said the television arrangement was believed to be the first experiment of its kind in sports. A truck with a mounted television camera roamed the edge of the practice field. A 1,200-foot cable connected the camera with a micro-wave station setup on top of the adjacent Notre Dame Stadium.

The telecast then was beamed to a second station set up at St. Joseph's Hospital, which, in turn connected with the receiver located at Leahy's bedside.

A direct line telephone circuit also was set up to enable Leahy to keep in constant touch with his assistants. He also has been holding daily meetings with his coaching staff in his hospital room outlining plays for the Irish game against Navy on Saturday.

When the New Castle Handicap was first run in 1937 it carried $10,000 in added money. The 1953 running of the race was worth $100,000.

Bobby Dodd, Georgia Tech football coach and athletic director, was head coach of the College All-Stars for both the 1952 and 1953 games.

When the New Castle Handicap was first run in 1937 it carried $10,000 in added money. The 1953 running of the race was worth $100,000.

1953 Football Season Nears U.P. Close With Two Undeclared Teams

The Upper Peninsula high school football season nears its 1953 close this weekend with three teams in action. Three games, two of them makeup games, are on tap for the following Saturday, Nov. 7.

Only two Upper Peninsula teams have survived the season without defeat and one of them, Iron River, has finished its schedule. Ironwood makes its bid for a perfect year at Escanaba Saturday afternoon.

Ontonagon fell from the select list last weekend in its final game against Hurley, Wis., losing by a 26-20 margin.

Title In Doubt
All Upper Peninsula conference champions have been crowned except in the Great Lakes circuit. That championship will be determined on Saturday, Nov. 7, when Soo plays at Ishpeming and Manistique travels to Negaunee in a pair of games that were previously postponed because of the polio epidemic in September.

Another makeup game is scheduled for this Saturday with Ishpeming invading Iron Mountain. Iron River's seven straight wins, all in Upper Peninsula competition, give Coach Harry Monson's Redskins the top spot in the U. P. Class B standings. Ironwood has three U. P. wins and four out-state victories going into the finale here Saturday.

U. P. Writers Meet
On the weekend following Nov. 7, the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association will hold its annual fall meeting in Marquette. The writers will name All-U. P. gridgers, the coach of the year and the winner of the Barber Trophy, emblematic of Upper Peninsula grid supremacy.

Last weekend's action saw three intense inter-city rivalries played, with at least one of the games resulting in an upset. Houghton rose up to belt Hancock 26-0. It was Houghton's second win of the season. Gladstone smothered Escanaba 35-7 and Iron Mountain trimmed Kingsford 31-13 in the other games.

Jap Cagers Bow And Never Question Ref

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma basketball coach Bruce Drake, back home today from a far eastern tour, said the Japanese "put us to shame on sportsmanship."

"The Japanese referee is King. Nobody questions him." Drake conducted coaching clinics for the Army in Japan and Hawaii for 30 days.

"Before the game," he related, "the opposing teams huddle and cheer for each other, then line up in midcourt facing each other and bow politely twice. They repeat this after the game too. There is no booing."

He found the small, nimble orientals to be experts on the fast break and they "pass the ball like it was a hot potato." He said the average Japanese player is very small, averaging about 5 feet 5.

Because the country is so sports minded, Drake said the U. S. Army believes the best way to improve international relations with Japan is through basketball and other games.

"There are no eligibility problems in Japan," Drake added. "All students think it is criminal to flunk or cut classes. They think it is a disgrace to their ancestors."

Drake said the coaches felt no compulsion to win to please fans or alumni. Most coaches, he explained, do their job as a hobby and aren't paid a cent.

List Of Undeclared Teams In State Is Pared To 45

DETROIT (AP)—Led by six Class A powers, there are 45 high school football teams in the state today with perfect unbeaten, untied records.

Topping the select list are Ann Arbor, Bay City Central, Port Huron, and Grand Haven, each with six straight victories. Two other Class A teams — Detroit Chaskey and Detroit Pershing — have won five straight games.

These records were made available to the Associated Press by Dick Kishpaugh, Kalamazoo sports statistician.

14 Knocked Out

The unbeaten, untied list dwindled considerably last weekend when 14 teams tumbled to their first loss of the season. The only Class A casualty was Detroit Redford.

Others which suffered their first setbacks were Marshall, Ecorse, St. Francis Xavier, Kingston, Bad Axe, Stockbridge, Center Line, Linden, North Muskegon, Detroit Salesian, Detroit St. Ambrose, Detroit St. Anthony and Detroit St. Theresa.

The list will be chopped further Friday when two unbeaten, untied defensive teams — Kellogg and Comstock — meet at Comstock. Comstock has allowed only three touchdowns in six games and Kellogg only one in six games.

Two Unscored On

Kishpaugh reports there are only two teams left in the state which have perfect records and also have not been scored on. They are Mt. Morris (6 games) and Peck (5 games).

Port Huron with 25 straight victories, boasts the longest winning streak in the state. Algonac with 23 is next and then comes Ann Arbor with 21 straight.

Berrien Springs hasn't lost in 23 games but tied once.

All records however, will be forgotten Friday night when Flint Northern and Bay City Central meet in what probably will be the game of the year. It should decide the championship of the Saginaw Valley.

Had Close Shave

Central, as mentioned, has won its first six games but the Wolves were given a genuine scare before subduing Owosso 26-20 Saturday. Owosso was the first team to score against Central this year and it did it three times.

Flint Northern also had its troubles. Down by one touchdown, the Vikings had to rally to defeat Saginaw 20-6.

But the team which still hasn't recovered from the shock is Boy's Republic of Farmington. These lads made a trip to Lansing and lost to Boy's Vocational by the crushing score of 103-0.

Three-Year Contract Signed By Dessen

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Chuck Dessen has that three-year contract he couldn't get from Brooklyn. It probably will bring him about $40,000 a year from Oakland in the Pacific Coast League.

Dessen, who managed Oakland Tuesday as both manager and general manager. He indicated his pay will be $32,500, plus attendance bonuses.

Hack-And-Hammer Grid Fans Are In For Treat

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Devotees of hack-and-hammer football will get a full serving Saturday when Pittsburgh runs into Minnesota and Paul Giel in the week's nationally televised game.

Minnesota, running from a variety of formations, grinds off the tackles with mass blocking and unbalances its line to get maximum push on short yardage plays.

The Gophers' main departure from the old power system is linked directly to the assorted football gifts of All American Giel. Minnesota's most consistent ground gainer is the option pass play.

Giel is hitting on over 50 per cent of his passes, and when they try to toughen the pass defense, Giel cuts loose with a stop-and-go open-field style which has frustrated tacklers for three years.

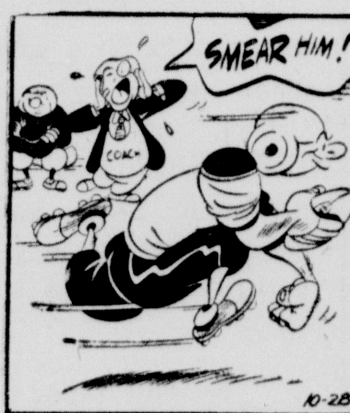

Pittsburgh, without a backfield ace like Giel to trigger its attack, has relied on straight-ahead power for most of its yardage. Fullback Bobby Epps, who carries 195 pounds on a 5-foot-8 frame, has produced most of the punch.

Coach Red Dawson will confront Giel and the Gophers with an active line, strong on the right side but unpredictable on the left. Dawson has two of the best in the East in right tackle Eldred Kraemer and right end Dick Dietrick.

Both teams have lost three times, Minnesota to Southern California, Illinois and Michigan State, and Pittsburgh to West Virginia, Notre Dame and Northwestern.

Pittsburgh holds a lone victory over Nebraska and a tie with Oklahoma. Minnesota has beaten Northwestern and Michigan.

Castellani Fights Frenchman Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Castellani, hoping to boost his chances for a shot at the middleweight title, tonight takes on Mickey Laurent, a would-be spoiler from France, in a televised 10-rounder.

Castellani has won five times and lost once this year, bringing his lifetime record to 45 wins, five losses and five draws. He wants a crack at Bobo Olson's title.

Laurent has fought two draws and lost once this year, bringing the United States this year.

In another middleweight 10-rounder, Joe Giambra meets Don (Wild) Oats of Hamilton, Ont.

Giambra, from Buffalo, has lost only two of his 37 fights.

Gopher Great Paul Giel Named AP Back Of Week

NEW YORK (AP)—The key man in one of last Saturday's major upsets, Minnesota's Paul Giel, was chosen today as the Associated Press back of the week.

It was a close contest in the ballots between Giel and Zeke Bratkowski of Georgia.

Bratkowski's passing, according to observers was "uncanny" and Sports Editor Furman Bisher of the Atlanta Constitution commented: "He means more to his team than any individual in the country." But "The Brat" was performing against North Carolina, a team with an ordinary record this season, while Giel was the big man in Minnesota's 22-0 decision over nationally ranked Michigan.

Giel had "the greatest day of any athlete in the school's history," said Charles Johnson, veteran Minneapolis Star and Tribune football writer. Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterbaan merely gasped, "He was wonderful."

The Minnesota Meteor handled the ball 53 times to set a Big Ten record; he completed 13 of 18 passes for 169 yards; rushed for 112 yards; returned kicks for 83 yards; and completely befuddled the Michigan defense with his faking.

Bishop L. W. Kohlman, Guelph, Ontario, Canada, will arrive here Friday to conduct services this weekend at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Bishop Kohlman heads the Soo District of the church.

With him will be Elder Les Gardiner, missionary, who has just completed schooling. Gardiner is a native of Australia while Bishop Kohlman comes from Texas.

Bishop Kohlman will speak at the Sunday evening service and also conduct a preaching service Monday night at 7:30 at the church.

The visitors will be guests of Elder and Mrs. Rex Stowe over the weekend.
